Col. Everington to Obtain Ideas of South Glendale
Relative to Its Plants at Cerritos and Magnolia Street

At the joint meeting Thursday evening of the Glendale board of education and the advisory school committee, of which W. E. Hewitt is chairman, a committee report was submitted by H. V. Henry of the "trimming committee," recommending expenditures totaling $434,075, but inasmuch as it had been impossible to get together the members of the sub-committee appointed to negotiate with the Newport company and the Sparr Heights company relative to a school site in Verdugo canyon, and also because it was considered desirable to get some decisive expression from residents of the southern section of the city relative to expenditures at Cerritos and Magnolia schools, the meeting adjourned to convene again next Thursday evening after having voted to enlarge the special Verdugo Woodlands committee, of which John Bolin is chairman, by the appointment of W. E. Hewitt and H. V. Henry.

Colonel James Everington had expressed the conviction that his sub-committee would by that time be able to ascertain the sentiment in South Glendale relative to the expenditure of the $131,000, which the committee had decided could be spent there at Cerritos or Magnolia schools, and it was deemed best to secure reports from these two committees before further action should be taken.

Under the recommendations of the committee report the sum total was divided as follows:

Acacia, $49,050, which was estimated would provide five classrooms, a new sanitary plant, and a new room, at a cost of $130,000, a kindergarten, equipment and furniture for the classrooms.

Broadway, $32,650, to cover four additional classrooms at $7,000 each, new sanitary units, furnishings and equipment, one new bungalow to be ready for use in February at a cost of $130,000, a kindergarten, equipment and furniture for the classrooms.

Central avenue, $33,850 for four additional classrooms, furnishings and fixtures, new sanitary units, installation of gas radiators, etc.

Cerritos and Magnolia, $31,500, for three additional classrooms, sanitary units, furniture and fixtures, heating plants, etc. the people of that section to be asked to decide where this money is to be spent, whether at Magnolia or Cerritos.

Colorado, $32,825, to cover cost of a new bungalow, new water pipes for sprinkling system, new sanitary units, furniture and fixtures.

Columbus, $47,150, for four additional classrooms, the moving of kindergarten, additional sanitary units, laying of sidewalks on grounds, water pipes for sprinkling, etc.

Glendale, $107,850, for six additional classrooms, auditorium to cost $35,000, cafeteria, new sanitary units, lockers, furniture, the construction of a bungalow class room for use the first of February, and the purchase of additional land.

Grand View, $24,450, for three additional classrooms, one to be used for a kindergarten, additional sanitary units, laying of sidewalks on grounds, water pipes for sprinkling, etc.

Pacific avenue, $65,900, to cover the construction of six new classrooms at $7,000 each, purchase of additional land, new sanitary units, the installation of gas heating units, furnishing, etc., using one of the temporary bungalows for manual training and one for sewing classes, students in this department work having heretofore had to go to another school to get it.

No allowance was made expenditures at Wilson avenue nor in Verdugo Woodlands. Relative to the section last named the committee argued that the price made by the Sparr Heights company for a site was prohibitive and an unjustified expenditure in view of the fact that there are but 29 students in the Glendale schools from that territory. Mr. Bolin urged that a large number of houses are under construction and a big building program is certain to follow the introduction of gas and sewers in Verdugo Woodlands, but his fellow committeemen argued they must first provide for school children who are here. All members, however, were in favor of further negotiations to secure a site which is deemed to be needed in the near future.

The committee also figured that the temporary bungalow class room

GLENDALIANS FORM LOAN ASSOCIATION

Dan Campbell Heads List of Officers With Prominent Citizens

QUARTERS SECURED

To Make Investments for Ten Year Periods on Monthly Payments

Headed by a list of prominent Glendale business men and financiers, the Golden State Building and Loan Association has been organized here. The officers:

Dan Campbell, president; W. W. Lee, vice president; Charles N. Elder, secretary; R. P. Kitterman, treasurer; directors: W. S. Perry, Roy L. Kent, E. C. Pendroy, Attorney W. E. Evans.

All the men connected with the company are well known, experienced bankers and business men. Insuring its success from the start, Chas. N. Elder, manager of the company, was for several years in the investment bond and building and loan business in Kansas City and for the last two years has been general agent in Los Angeles County for the Western Loan and Building Company.

The association has taken over the lease and bought the savings bank fixtures and equipment of the Security Trust and Savings Bank at 104 East Broadway. The Security Trust and Savings Bank has bought the corner, where the Pacific Electric depot is and will build a modern fireproof six story office building and equip the ground floor for both their commercial and savings banks. The savings bank will continue their business at the present location until the new building is completed and the Building and Loan company will operate in with the bank in the meantime.

Operating under supervision of the state building and loan department with an authorized capital of one million dollars and being a local institution, owned and operated by local men, this company will render a much needed service to Glendale. The object is to encourage industry, thrift and frugality, and the accumulation of savings among its shareholders, members and others and to make loans for buying and building homes.

Loans will be made for a period of ten years and can be paid off in small monthly payments like rent, a part of the principal with interest being paid each month on the amortization plan similar to the Federal farm loan plan.

To accumulate a still larger loan fund, the plan is to issue both full paid and monthly installment membership shares and investment certificates which will form an ideal and absolutely safe means for saving and investing both large or small sums on which 6 per cent and 7 per cent interest compounded semi-annually will be paid.

GLENDALE DAILY PRESS READERS VOTE AGAINST ANNEXATION BY PHONE

Some Admit They Were Interested in Propaganda,
But Soon Saw Through the Proposition and Are Now Strongly in Favor of Home Rule

Criticism of the park-purchasing proclivities of the city council appears today among the comments upon annexation gathered by the Glendale Daily Press, in a communication from George B. Thatcher.

If the council had spent the $131,000 paid for parks in starting a sewer, said Mr. Thatcher, in his letter printed below, it would have been wiser.

Editor Glendale Press: As a reader of your valuable paper I wish to express my sentiments regarding annexation and other affairs concerning our city. I am diametrically opposed to annexation to Los Angeles for the many reasons already given in the Press. The sewer problem seems to be the "bugaboo" in the matter.

Now, if our city officials were practical business men, having the interests of the city at heart, as they most ardently avow, they would have taken the $125,000 they have invested in parks recently and used it to solve the sewer problem. It would have helped mightily. We can better do without the parks for the present than the sewers.

We can't get our money back, so in order to forestall any further raids on our city treasury I would suggest using Verdugo Woodlands park as a cemetery for our city officials, together with all annexationists. The other property to be used as the "people" of Glendale may deem best.

Yours truly,
GEORGE B. THATCHER.
341 Chester street.

Mrs. W. A. Hough, 303 North Maryland avenue: "I am not in favor of annexation, as I believe it would be better for Glendale to be a separate city."

Mr. and Mrs. Oren L. Howard, 364 West Doran street: "We don't want to annex to Los Angeles. We think Glendale is better off to remain an independent city. It will also be much better for Glendale as a home place."

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Boynton, 421 East Windsor road: "We do not want to annex to Los Angeles. We have not heard anything in favor of it at all, or any advantages to be gained by being a part of Los Angeles."

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sutton, 727 East Windsor road: "We are against annexation. As a city, Glendale would lose its individuality and we also believe that consolidation would mean an increase in taxes."

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Esselman, 1721 Gardena avenue: "We are not in favor of annexation. With Glendale growing as it is, we believe that it would be for the good of the community for it to stay as we are, unless there was some sort of a borough system worked out, such as they have in New York city."

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fuller, 1242 Mariposa street: "We don't want to annex to Los Angeles, and are very desirous of keeping Glendale as an independent city. We cannot see that Glendale would derive any help by annexing."

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gaede, 324 West Cerritos avenue: "We are very much opposed to annexing Glendale to Los Angeles. We want to keep it an independent city, as we believe we are better off as such."

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Gear of 1217 East Lexington stated: "We feel that it would be an awful thing for Glendale. It would be just like a big fish swallowing up a smaller one and we would get nothing from it whatever."

Mrs. N. P. Sherman of 1217 East Lexington drive answered, when asked how she felt about the annexation problem: "I am against it. I think we would be right in the hole if we should join Los Angeles, especially because they could do nothing for us." Mrs. Sherman has lived in Los Angeles and knows all about it.

J. E. Howes, 1122 East Elk avenue: "I am not in favor of annexation. There is only one question: If Glendale falls down on the sewerage question it will be necessary to annex in order to get an outlet. However, if we can take care of the sewerage question in any way I am not in favor of annexing."

Mrs. Louise Purnell, 353 Ivy street: "I will fight annexation all I can. I do not see where Glendale would get anything by consolidating with Los Angeles."

I see in the Press where one party favors annexation for the reason that in five years Glendale will progress in rapid strides if a part of Los Angeles. I must say that is the poorest argument of all. What other city (outside of Glendale) has progressed with rapid strides without the aid of Los Angeles? When once annexed, we are there for keeps and no backing out. Wait a few years. There is no hurry, for we can be annexed any time we wish. Investigate the ins and outs.

DE MOLAY ORDER DANCE PROVES BIG SUCCESS

During the evening, punch was served.

The committee in charge included A. S. Chase, Jr., chairman; Sam Thompson, refreshments; Allen K. Pollock, decorations; W. J. Goodfellow, programs; Valentine Hollingsworth, music, and W. M. Cline, floor.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Balthis, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Redd and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Vance.

PROTEST IS OUT AGAINST AIRPORT BUY

Petition Is Circulated by Consolidation Club at High School Meeting

ASKS REFERENDUM

Insists on Rescinding of Action by Council or Submission to Voters

The immediate objective of the Consolidation to Los Angeles club was last night to a petition against the recent purchase of 23 acres for an airport, demanding the purchase be rescinded or submit it to a vote of the taxpayers.

The petition was started out this morning, after being presented and endorsed at the meeting of the club last night in the high school.

The petition recites the resolution of the city council voting the purchase and the terms of the contract and concludes:

"And we demand that the city council of the city of Glendale rescind and repeal the resolution aforesaid, or that the same be submitted to a vote of the electors of said city according to law."

DAD AND SONNY BANQUET HELD BY ROTARIANS

One Hundred Percent Attendance Is Achieved
for Fourth Time

The meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday noon was a "Fathers and Sons" banquet at which covers were laid for about 75, and Secretary J. Herbert Smith announced it was the fourth consecutive 100 percent meeting. There was enthusiastic response to the community song program led by "France" Night.

The excellent dinner served by the Glen Inn Restaurant was enjoyed.

George Karr, who has been absent for the past month, was welcomed. Announcement was made that next week's meeting will be a Christmas dinner for members and wives, served in the evening with Christmas decorations, a tree, and gifts for all present.

The special guests of the day were presented with rotary pencils, and members were remembered by J. A. Newton with emblems.

A committee of "newest members," headed by J. G. Huntley as chairman, provided the program which followed the dinner. "Val" Hollister made an address of welcome to the new members, each of whom was introduced by his father or by the father adopted for the day and "Jim" Newton was delegated to introduce the entertainers. The first selection was given by a quartet of three places composed of Arthur Barton, saxophone player; Harry Brown, violinist; Dallas Kalbaugh, drummer. They were accompanied upon the piano by Paul Carson. One of the numbers played was "The Song of the Scouting" by Richardson D. White.

Dallas Kalbaugh supplemented the musical numbers with a talk on "Why a boy should become a scout at the age of twelve years."

Howard Bentley contributed a piano solo and encore number; Albert McCoubrey, of Community Service Players, a reading, "The Fool;" Wesley Kent and Howard Smith, piano and saxophone duet numbers, "Annie Laurie" and "Silent Night;" Jack Emery, a reading, "Mother Called me Bill;" Jim Rhodes, Jr., gave an address on America; Howard Kent, an address on "Father's Trousters;" Bob Ford and his father, "Ernest," sang in duet a rotary song to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne."

"Bill" Howe, in his usual generous fashion, invited all the boys to be his guests and the program closed with a number by the boy scout orchestra.

APPRAISAL COMMITTEE AUTHORIZED FOR CITY BY GLENDAL REALTY

W. H. Horn Appointed Chairman to Name His Own
Associates in Organizing Work to Be Accomplished on Values

TO SERVE NATIONALLY AND LOCALLY

Unit Will Co-operate With Nationwide Organization of Real Estate Men As Well As State and Own Body and Fix Values

An appraisal committee, upon which the federal government as well as local property buyers can call for advice and upon which the realty agents of the city may call when a fair value on property is desired, was authorized by the Glendale realty board at its meeting Thursday. The chairman, W. H. Horn, was empowered to name such a committee.

This action resulted from a request on the part of several of the board members, in addition to the following letter, just received from the National Association of Real Estate Boards:

"The National Association of Real Estate Boards has appointed a committee to co-operate with the Federal Real Estate Board and to give such assistance as may be practicable, upon request of the co-ordinator, especially in procuring from local boards throughout the country appraisals of real estate."

"In view of the fact that appraisals made by these boards are generally considered to be the most accurate and impartial obtainable, being accepted in many cities as bases of tax assessments and judicial decisions, it is believed that the service offered may be of great value in important real estate transactions to which the government is a party."

"Whenever an expert appraisal is essential to the efficient handling of real estate matter of any considerable magnitude, the case should be referred to the chief co-ordinator with the view of obtaining through him the appraisal desired."

"A notable recognition of the value of expert appraisals by real estate board appraisal committees throughout the United States is contained in a recent announcement by H. C. Smith, chief co-ordinator of the Federal Real Estate Board of the United States government. All departments and establishments of the federal government have been instructed to refer real estate appraisals to the chief co-ordinator with the view of obtaining expert valuations by qualified experts in the field of the part of the federal board is the result of the recent offer made by the National Association of Real Estate Boards to appraise at least one property in each city, free of charge, in order to demonstrate the thoroughness and efficiency with which real estate board valuation committees do their work."

"Negotiations in this important matter, which have been brought to such a successful consummation, were conducted by Irving E. Hiett of Toledo, representing the national association."

The ordinance which is under consideration by the Glendale city council and which, in its original form, was detrimental to the real estate business, was referred back to the committee appointed for the purpose of looking into that matter. Mayor Robinson, who was present at the meeting, stated that the city council is anxious to draft an ordinance concerning this matter that will be agreeable to the realtors of the city.

The board voted to donate $25 toward the float that will represent Glendale at the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena on New Year's day.

By unanimous vote it was decided to continue the school for the study of the multiple system for two weeks longer at least, the next two meetings to be held at the chamber of commerce on the next two Tuesday evenings.

The board went on record as protesting against the acceptance of any member by the state board as a member of the California Real Estate association that was not eligible for membership in the real estate board of the community in which he resides.

COMMUNITY XMAS PROGRAM SET FOR MONDAY

Final Details Arranged for Big Demonstration
on Monday Night

The final details for the Glendale Community Christmas celebration to be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock on the high school grounds were completed at a meeting of chairmen of committees held at the chamber of commerce. Colonel James W. Everington is general chairman in charge of the celebration, which is the first big program to be put on by Glendale Community Service, and in which all of the people of Glendale are to take part. Mrs. W. Q. Widdows is chairman of the committee which arranged the musical program. The engineering of the entire program will be turned over to Harry Girard, who is stage manager and will have entire charge on Christmas night.

"The Community Christmas tree celebration, which will be held on the lawn of the high school Monday night will be one of the largest community projects that has ever been attempted in the city," declared Colonel Everington, this morning.

"All of Glendale is behind this wonderful program to celebrate the spirit of Christmas," he continued, "and there is hardly an institution or organization of any importance in the city that is not taking an active part in helping to make it a big success. We have had splendid co-operation from everybody and Community Service of Glendale is doing a great thing for the people by promoting as one of its first series of activities this big event."

"Too much credit cannot be given to the different committees and chairmen who have been working with considerable enthusiasm to make this project a success," he added. The Exchange club has taken over the job of constructing a platform in front of the high school and the Bentley-Schomman school and the Bentley-Schomman Lumber company is donating the material. The committee for this includes A. B. Castle, chairman; Bert Cline, J. C. May and W. C. Waring.

The Shuck Music company will provide a beautiful tuned piano, which will be used by the high school orchestra, directed by Mrs. Dora Gibson. They will play the entire accompaniment for the Christmas carols. The work of the committees on supplies, which David Black is chairman, was practically completed yesterday afternoon, when a group of people from the various organizations, assisted by a goodly number of Boy Scouts, sacked 700 pounds of Christmas candy, which will be distributed among the children attending the celebration. This work was under the supervision of Mrs. E. S. McKee, who was the captain of industry.

A large screen will be constructed at one side of the platform and the words of several of the Christmas carols will be thrown upon it by a stereopticon machine worked by Willard Roberts. Mrs. Wm. Hunter and Mrs. E. W. Gilliland of the Tuesday Afternoon club are busy interviewing different Santa Clauses, so that the candy may have a proper escort.

Ivan Dow of 704 North Louise street has been selected as the herald, and will announce each part of the program with a mighty blast on the trumpet. City Manager Reeves has given permission for lighting the Christmas tree and already the decorations are nearly completed to put on the tree. This work is under the direction of L. W. Chubb, who will be assisted by a number of the fire ladders.

CITY DADS WADE THROUGH STREET WORK

The hearing of protests against the making of Howard, Geneva, Everett and Doran streets a first-class residential district was laid over for two weeks.

There were no protests against the opening and widening of Chester and Pioneer, and the next step in this work was ordered taken. An application from the Haddock & Nibley company for a permit to erect a water tank on their tract was referred to the city engineer. Plat of tract offered by Hayward & McCartney was ordered referred to city engineer and city manager for checking.

R. E. Wallace was granted a permit to conduct a taxicab business in Glendale.

An estimate for the maintenance of ornamental street lights was submitted by superintendent of plant and production. Date of hearing of protests was set for three weeks from last night.

The following ordinances were introduced and read for the first time:

An ordinance creating a first-class district No. 9, Louise, California to Lexington.

An ordinance creating first-class district No. 10, Orange and Milford streets.

An ordinance ordering work for the opening and widening of Chester street and Pioneer drive.

An ordinance for the opening and widening of Fifth street.

The following resolutions were adopted:

A resolution adopting maps and diagrams in the office of the city engineer.

E. L. Fleming was granted an extension of 60 days on the improvement of Wilson avenue.

The same contractor was granted a 60-day extension of time on the improvement of Adams street.

A petition was received from the residents on Chestnut street between Louise and Glendale asking that that section be set aside as a first-class residential district. City clerk was instructed to draw up the necessary proceedings.

Bids for the improvement of Adams street were received, opened, referred to the city engineer for checking and report.

A map of a new road in Kirkby canyon was not accepted.

City clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for $23,000 bonds of Improvement District No. 7.

The Pacific Electric company asked permission to remove track from the alley east of Brand and between Wilson and Broadway. Permission was granted, provided the company restored pavement on portion of street now occupied by the tracks.

On motion of Councilman Stephenson the billboard ordinance, as amended, which prohibits billboards in residential district, was adopted.

On motion of Councilman Stephenson the flood water problem in Watson court was referred to the city manager and city engineer, to report later.

PET BUCK DEER TURNS ON OWNER

NAPA, Cal., Dec. 22.—Ah Fong knew that his pet deer was a beautiful animal but he never thought it would knock his eye out.

Ah Fong, who is the cook for the Doak ranch near Oakville, found a pretty fawn a year ago and raised it as a pet. The fawn was an interesting and affectionate companion.

The other day, however, Ah Fong went to feed the now strong buck when the animal suddenly became savage, knocked his friend down, trampled him and pierced Fong's right eye with an antler tip.

Ranch hands heard Fong's cries and rescued him from the infuriated buck, but not until he had lost the sight of his right eye.

Venice promises all visitors to their city during the three-day Carnival of Venice that they will be treated to two New Year's eves—both Saturday and Sunday night will be filled with events that will carry out the New Year's spirit.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT AT THURSDAY CLUB

The Christmas spirit prevailed throughout the delightful program given Thursday afternoon before members and friends of the Thursday Afternoon Club, at the home of Mrs. Roy F. Bancroft, 121 West Eulalia street.

The spacious rooms were filled with an appreciative audience who greatly enjoyed every number presented.

Mrs. William C. Mabry, president, opened the short business session with the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, read by the secretary, Miss Eva Daniels.

An invitation from the Hollywood Woman's Club, inviting the president and one representative of the Thursday Afternoon Club to attend their Reciprocity day program on January 10, was read and this meeting will be attended by Mrs. Mabry and Mrs. A. L. Bancroft.

Mabry reported having attended a luncheon given by the Los Angeles district of women's clubs in honor of the state president, Mrs. Fitzgerald. The principal subject was "World Peace and International Relations."

It was reported that club members who helped in the recent Salvation Army drive turned in $42 which was a fair amount considering the territory covered and Mrs. Mabry thanked those who helped.

Julius Kranz, violinist, composer and teacher, was presented to the club and gave two beautiful selections, accompanied by Mrs. Svendsen. He played "Minuet in G" by Beethoven and "At Twilight" one of his own compositions.

The remainder of the program was given by Miss Hazel Campbell and Mrs. Svendsen, and proved most entertaining. Miss Campbell gave the following musical readings: "Little Boy" (Bliss); "Bed Fellows" (Bliss); "We Haven't Said Our Prayers" (Bliss); "Little Boy Blue" (Eugene Field). She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Svendsen.

Mrs. Svendsen, who has a beautiful soprano voice sang "Beat Upon Mine Little Heart" (Nevin) and "Temple Bells" (Fincken). Playing her own accompaniment.

The next number was a vocal duet, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," sung by Miss Campbell and Mrs. Svendsen. They also sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

"Cause Youse Under Obligation to Old Santa Claus" proved to be a clever negro dialect reading, given by Miss Campbell. "Curiosity" was one of the same nature and brought out the little pikaninny's curiosity to know what their mammy was cooking for Christmas dinner.

The next number was a duet, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" (Scott) which concluded the afternoon's program. These artists met with hearty applause and all wished their program might have been longer.

To close the afternoon, sandwiches and tea and English fruit cake were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. F. Bancroft, Mrs. Vantine, Mrs. Dunlop, Mrs. MacDougal, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Mitchell.

The business man was boasting to his actor friend.

"Your profession may be very lofty and highbrow in an artistic sense," he said, "but look at me. I have retired at the early age of forty-five, and have been presented by my fellow merchants with an illuminated address. Have you ever had an illuminated address?"

"I have," replied the actor, "once."

"When?" asked his friend.

"Why," replied the actor, "when my lodgings caught fire."

Some men can't stand prosperity; but if a man is prosperous he can afford to sit down occasionally.

PLANS FOR DEDICATION ON DEC. 24.

Elaborate Preparations for Ceremonies of Community Center

Elaborate preparations are being made for the laying of the cornerstone of the handsome Community Center Building that has been dedicated to the city of Glendale by William S. Sparr, Senator Leslie E. Francis and the Francis-Barnum-Walters Company, the owners, and subdividers of Sparr Heights, the beautiful 1500-acre residential tract northeast of Glendale.

The public generally has been invited to be present at that time and an elaborate program has been prepared for its entertainment. The Elks Band will furnish a musical program, Mayor Robinson will represent the city of Glendale, and refreshments will be served by the Glendale Civic Club.

This beautiful building, designed by A. F. Leicht, of the supervisory board of architects of Sparr Heights, will be the scene of many social gatherings when completed. Sparr Heights will soon be famous for its many beautiful homes. That community will be made up of cultured people and this building will afford a meeting place for those of both sections who have the same interests.

It behooves the citizens of Glendale to turn out in large numbers next Sunday for this ceremony and by their attendance show their appreciation of this splendid gift. These public-spirited gentlemen have focused their ability, experience and financial strength upon an enterprise that will add a most beautiful home section to Glendale, and bring thousands of dollars to our merchants, and our citizens should not be backward in their recognition of this munificence.

MISS ANDERSON BECOMES BRIDE OF CAPT. MYERS

On Saturday evening the West Lake Methodist church was the scene of a smart wedding, when Elsie M. Anderson became the bride of Capt. Harry Grove Myers, former congressman from New York. Dr. Helm of the First Methodist church read the beautiful marriage lines. The bride, dressed in white satin entwine with touches of silver, and carrying a shower bouquet of sweet peas and valley lilies, was unattended except for lovely little Thelma Holway, in pale pink taffeta, who carried the ring down the aisle. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo and carried a mammoth chrysanthemum. The popularity of this young couple was well attested to by the large number of guests who thronged the beautifully decorated church and the scores of handsome gifts received. Mr. and Mrs. Myers will be at home after January 1, at 1022 Virginia place, Glendale.

RODAIRE CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

At the regular meeting of the Rodaire Club, held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Carolyn Brehme, 806 South Maryland, Christmas gifts were brought which were numbered and then a number assigned to each guest to insure the impartial distribution. It was more of a party than a regular session, the evening being devoted to music, dancing and other diversions. At its close refreshments were served, the favors and table decorations being appropriate to the holiday season. Next Wednesday the club will have a progressive party, the homes of all the members being visited.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO RECEIVE ON JANUARY 1

To Be at Home to Friends at Club Reception in New Domicile

The Business and Professional Women's club will be at home to its friends on New Year's day from 3 to 8 and will be glad to have all members and all friends of the organization call to give and receive a greeting. The club home is located at 126 South Maryland in the heart of the business district. The boxes containing gifts of toys donated by members for poor children will be at the club rooms Saturday afternoon to receive any additional gifts which members or others wish to add to the collection. They are to be divided between the Orthopaedic hospital and the Monte Vista home for undernourished children.

CASEYS TO GIVE CHRISTMAS DANCE IN CLUBHOUSE

Plans were formulated for a Christmas dance to be given Friday, December 29 by the Knights of Columbus, at their regular meeting held in the new clubhouse, 320 East Lomita Avenue on Wednesday night. M. J. Brennan was appointed chairman of the dance committee.

Formal dedication of the splendid new clubhouse will be held on the 3rd or 4th of January. Past grand knight, H. V. Henry, who is in charge of the arrangements for the Christmas tree celebration, reported all arrangements completed for the annual treat to the children of the parishes of Glendale, Eagle Rock, Burbank, San Fernando as well as Mother Cabrinas Preventorium at Burbank, where there are 70 children being rehabilitated and brought back to sturdy childhood.

A rising vote of thanks was given Past Grand Knight Peter L. Ferry for his splendid work in handling the construction of the new clubhouse. About twenty applications for membership were received and the title of the "Fastest Growing Council in America" still remains in the "Fastest Growing City in America."

Dancing will be permitted all night at Venice during the three-day Carnival of Venice to be held in this city from December 30 to January 1, inclusive.

The girls' glee club was heard in the morning at Trinity auditorium and sang beautifully their 17th Century Hymn with the echo off stage, especially the audience. The boys' glee club was to have sung at the Grand Avenue school in the afternoon. That building having burned the session was held in a smaller room, which was so crowded that conditions were not altogether favorable. They sang well, particularly in "Land of Hope and Glory," and were warmly applauded. Mrs. Charles Parker directed both groups.

The school orchestra under the leadership of Mrs. Dora Gibson, also made a record at the auditorium, especially in the number from Tannhauser (Wagner) containing the solo number, "Evening Star," played on the cornet by Ivan Dow, who rendered it exquisitely.

A. J. Balfour said on the Aquitania: "I go back home impressed with your American quickness. You are certainly the quickest people on earth. An English farmer was showing an American over his sheep farm one day. 'How many sheep do you think there are in that fold?' the farmer asked. 'Er—600,' said the American. 'Right! Exactly right!' said the farmer. 'How the deuce did you know?' 'Why,' drawled the American, 'I just counted the legs and divided by four.'"

The professor was putting the finishing touches to his new concrete pathway. Tommy, aged six, had been watching the proceedings with great interest, and at length, deeming the time right for trial, started to cross before the mixture had time to dry. When the professor displayed his annoyance a passer-by observed: "Why, professor, I thought you liked children." "I like them all right in the abstract," the professor replied, "but not in the concrete."

WE WOMEN

By BETTY BRAINERD

A HAPPY ENDING

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts."

Mrs. Lena Hoffman played her part. The stage was prepared for her exit. She was dying and knew it. She asked the doctor in attendance to tell her how long she had to live. Ordinarily a doctor might be justified in lying. In this instance the doctor did not lie. He told her the truth.

"Just a few hours," he said.

Two daughters, one twenty-five and the other twenty-one, and a son, twenty-three, standing by in the death room, turned their faces to the wall and tried to choke the tears in their hearts and eyes.

The mother spoke to them; there was a dream—a prayer—a dying wish—in what she said.

"I shall die in peace if you are happy and well provided for. If only you were all married before I leave you."

The children rushed to the phone. They were all engaged to be married. They called their sweethearts. Soon automobiles were racing to that place in town where young people get marriage licenses. The authorities were sympathetic; they hurried the issue of the licenses. And while this was done a rabbi raced to the side of the dying woman.

In the death chamber six young people were married. The doctor propped the dying woman up in bed. She listened to the ceremony, signed contentedly, and died. There was a smile on her face at the end.

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances and one man in his time plays many parts."

Mrs. Hoffman has moved on. I find it difficult to describe my feelings at her death. Certainly she died as any normal human mother would wish to die—happy and smiling because in the moment of death and sorrow she made others—her children—happy.

There can be no finer, no more peaceful, death than this for a mother.

D. and L. theatre will be admitted free to Saturday (tomorrow) matinee to see Rudolph Valentino in his latest and best picture, "The Young Rajah." There will be no other charge made. These potatoes will be donated to the Monte Vista home for children as a food contribution from the children of Glendale. This affords the children an opportunity to help the little tots at Monte Vista home, and the splendid work of the many interested in this noble cause, and at the same time to see Rudolph Valentino in "The Young Rajah," Ralph Allan, through C. L. Langley, of Turner, Dahnken & Langley, makes this offer to the children of Glendale and the Monte Vista home as a token of this Christmas season.

THE FAILURE

BY JOHN BRECK

Doubtless Queen Vespa's life has been a failure from her own point of view. She wintered snugly under a claspboard just beneath my eaves. When she crawled forth into the spring sunshine she was the very pink and pattern of wasp perfection. How big and bright and vigorous she looked as she groomed her Spanish-colored coat, hawked about to make sure that aphids were already on the rose, plaited her first cell, and built six about it which make the queen nest—probably known as "the lucky seven" in wasp parlance. Then she laid an egg in each and spread her little paper tent about them, drawing it in close together at the bottom—so close I suspect she pinched the opening together as the bush-tit pinches the neck of her hanging nest—when she went a-hunting aphids in the squab stage, chewed to a jelly.

In about two weeks six daughters crept forth in line, as like as the first issue from a Ford factory. They crawled slowly about the outside of her globe, apparently testing out their engines at low speeds, while they waited for the light to harden the varnish on their chassis and paint the black and yellow stripes on their brand-new bodies. Only Mr. Ford's product is still in the black-ant stage; he has not yet equipped them with 'planes for aerial short-cuts.

Fired by youth's ambition, they tore off their natal tent, and revamped it into more cells, while they laid the plans for a new one on really capacious dimensions. They fall and their ambition still unrealized. The nurseries number only nineteen. And there is a scarcity of nurses to attend even this modest family. Forty-seven stings is the largest body of retainers her ex-cellency has ever been able to command, and of these more than half belong to the squadron of the guard. Humiliating, indeed, when a rival sister within caterpillar crawl has over four thousand.

What was wrong? Certainly not that the nest was behind the times. They were modernists from the first buzz—aggressively so. They stole the cat's milk. They drove the dog from her bones. They raided the cooler through a crack—fly invaders and all. But they made their fatal error when they tried to pre-empt the bird basin. Like bigger Fords, they felt confident they could go where anybody else could, regardless of size. Now, the basin was only fluttering deep for feathers, and its rim was perching wide. But let a bug set foot on the glaze, he found himself promptly in the swim, and his care-buretor wasn't adjusted for aquaplaning. All his air intakes were below the Pilsom market. So no bold wasp mariner ever returned to warn the queen.

Yes, her life has been a failure, if failure it is to aim for a palace and achieve only a humble cot. But her last hatch was four new queens, as bright and vigorous as ever she was in the joyous days of spring. Her rival across the way, with all her thousands, contrives no more to the future of wasps—so why should she complain?

Scouts Must Sign Up Saturday for the Mt. Baldy Trip

Saturday will be the last day for scouts to sign up for the big Xmas snow hike to "Old Baldy" on December 26, 27 and 28. Only a few more places are left and the scouts who have been waiting until the last minute better get signed up the first thing Saturday morning because there is always a big rush on the last day.

"There will absolutely be no danger for any boy who goes on this big trip," declared Peter L. Ferry, chairman of the camping committee. "Scout Executive Harold Benner will have personal charge of the expedition, assisted by several of the scout leaders."

The boys will sleep in a big dormitory at Camp Baldy. Plenty of bedding has been arranged for and there will be hot meals prepared by the Camp Baldy chefs. Scouts are going on this winter trip from Burbank, Tujunga, La Crescenta and Eagle Rock, in addition to those from Glendale. Scouts who have already signed up from Glendale Troops are Robert Perry, Robert St. Clair, Robert Sturgess, Wallace Haines, Dave Chandler, Charles Pratt, George Jameson, William Rhodes, Howard Heck, William Delay, Robert Hatch, Horace Brown, Kenneth Miles, Robert Eastman, Roscoe Graham, Charles Lyman, Wilbur Booth, Floyd Croft, Eugene Kille, Lynn Criswell, Edward Sheffard, Jack Packard and Laila Martin.

The first day in camp the scouts will be given the run of Camp Baldy. On the second day the group will be divided into four parties, according to age, with an adult leader in charge and will go on hikes of exploration up both the San Antonio and Inglewood canyons. Perhaps a party of the older boys may even venture as far as the "Divide." The second day will be devoted to all kinds of winter sports with sledding, skiing and skating. A big feature of the day's program will be an old-fashioned snowball fight. Only soft snowballs will be permitted but the scouts will have plenty of action even with them. Remember, Saturday is the last chance to sign up for this great mid-winter expedition.

All boy scouts of the Verdugo Hills District are urged to remember that tomorrow is the last day to bring the cocoa and condensed milk for the Welfare Bureau Xmas baskets. At its meeting last Monday the troop leaders roundtable voted unanimously in favor of putting the proposition up to their troops for having each scout contribute a pound of chocolate and a can of condensed milk as part of their Xmas good turns.

Already a number of troops have made plans for big Xmas baskets which will be distributed Xmas morning, but this cocoa and milk is needed very urgently by the Welfare Bureau to complete their Xmas baskets. Anyone who would like to contribute cocoa or milk is urged to bring it to the scout headquarters, 103 1/2 South Broadway, room 1.

There was no sign above the tiny office to denote what went on inside, except that it was a general agency. But underneath that description was the following sentence:

"Anything you want at a moment's notice." So the humorist knocked, entered, and found himself facing a sleek young man across a small desk-table.

"I want a lawyer," said the humorist.

"Certainly, sir," said the young man. "Smart or straight?"

Two children were playing in a garden and had just started a new game. "I know a fine game," said Harold, suddenly. "Let's be admirals and command all the ships of the navy." His playmate, a little girl, at once began imposing conditions. "All right," she said. "Only I must be the highest admiral and give commands to you."

Harold didn't like the idea and said so. The little girl thought for a moment. "Then," she said, "let's play that I'm the admiral's wife. That will do just as well."

Bids in Support of Partner's Suit Bid

It is very simple to lay down rules for supporting a suit bid by partner but sometimes difficult to apply them. Suppose first hand, as dealer, bids one Spade, and second hand bids two Hearts. Third hand cannot raise the bid unless holding at least four tricks with Spades as trumps, that is, one more than the average expectancy (three tricks). These tricks may be either Aces and Kings or trump strength and the ability to trump the second or subsequent rounds of plain suits. In support of partner's suit bid, it has been found that only Aces and Kings, that is, cards that win on the average the first and second rounds of a suit, can be considered trick takers with a suit as trump. For that reason, Queens are not regarded as trick takers under such conditions. Another thing that should be noted, and a most important one, is that the theory of supporting partner's suit bid is based on at least three trumps in the supporting hand, or two trumps to an honor, such as Ace, King or Queen.

With these basic principles as the starting point, the requirements for assisting partner's suit bid are as follows: First, double the quick tricks held in plain suits, that is, in suits that are not trump, limiting such quick tricks to Aces and Kings, or King Queen, or guarded Kings. Queens twice guarded are not counted as tricks because it is very likely that the third round of a suit will be trumped. Second, add one trick if holding as good as three to the Ace, King or Queen, or four or more small cards of partner's suit. Experience has shown that such holdings will average to produce one more trick in partner's hand than estimated. Third, add one trick for ability to trump the first or second rounds of a plain suit, or the third round of two plain suits. Fourth, in case four or more trumps are held, one or more of which are honors, add one trick for the number and one for the honor. That is, four or more trumps to the Ace, King or Queen are worth two tricks.

In the following example hands, suppose partner, as dealer, has bid one Spade, second hand has bid two Hearts, and third hand holds:

Hearts—8, 7, (1/2 trick)
Clubs—A, 9, 4, 3, 2, (2 tricks)
Diamonds—10, 4, (1/2 trick)
Spades—10, 7, 6, 2, (1 trick)

This hand holds four tricks in support of partner's original Spade bid and therefore may support the bid once.

Hearts—A, 4, 2, (2 tricks)
Clubs—4, 3, 2, (0 trick)
Diamonds—K, Q, 4, 2, (2 tricks)
Spades—7, 6, 2, (0 trick)

This hand holds four tricks in support of partner's original Spade bid and therefore may support bid once.

Hearts—10, 7, 5, (0 trick)
Clubs—A, 4, 3, 2, (2 tricks)
Diamonds—K, Q, 4, 2, (2 tricks)
Spades—9, 5, (0 trick)

This hand holds four tricks in support of partner's original Spade bid and therefore may support bid once.

This hand contains four tricks but should not be bid because it has only two Spades. If partner can re-bid, then this hand is strong enough to raise the bid once, but not otherwise.

Hearts—J, 4, 2, (0 trick)
Clubs—K, Q, 7, 6, (2 tricks)
Diamonds—K, 4, 3, (1 trick)
Spades—7, 6, 2, (0 trick)

This hand contains only three tricks and therefore only what partner expected when he made his original bid of one Spade. Therefore the hand should be passed.

Hearts—K, 10, 8, 7, (1 trick)
Clubs—A, 6, 4, 3, 2, (2 tricks)
Diamonds—10, (1 trick)
Spades—7, 6, 2, (0 trick)

This hand contains four tricks and holder may support partner's original Spade bid once.

There are other considerations that must be thought of at this point: First, re-bidding by the original bidder; and second, supporting bids by partner of a re-bidder. In the first case, suppose the dealer bids one Spade, second hand two Hearts, and third and fourth hands pass. Under such conditions, the original Spade bidder, to justify a bid of two Spades, should have at least two tricks more in his hand than required for the original bid. For estimating such additional tricks, add one for an Ace or K Q of a plain suit or one-half trick for a guarded King. If the trump suit is of greater length than five, add one trick for each trump in excess of five; add one trick if the trump honors are stronger than the A K combination. For example, the following hands may be re-bid once by the original bidder if partner has passed or if he has not yet had a chance to support the bid:

Hearts—A, 4, 2
Clubs—7, 6
Diamonds—10, 8
Spades—A, K, 7, 6, 4, 2

Hearts—10, 8, 7
Clubs—A, K, 4, 2
Diamonds—6
Spades—A, K, 7, 6, 2

Hearts—A, 4, 2
Clubs—10, 8
Diamonds—9, 8, 7
Spades—A, K, Q, 4, 2

In case the original bidder has re-bid, either after partner has passed or before he has had a chance to support the bid, partner may support his bid once either with one or two trumps, or four tricks and only two trumps. For example:

Hearts—J, 4, 2, (0 trick)
Clubs—K, Q, 7, 6, (2 tricks)
Diamonds—K, 4, 3, (1 trick)
Spades—7, 6, 2, (0 trick)

Hearts—10, 7, 5, (0 trick)
Clubs—A, 4, 3, 2, (2 tricks)
Diamonds—K, Q, 4, 2, (2 tricks)
Spades—9, 5, (0 trick)

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

IF WE DID THINGS THE TURKISH WAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—

There is great apprehension among members of the Angora government here. Extreme nervousness is being manifested on all sides, and there is a disconcerting air of uncertainty enveloping the capital. Results of fierce battles in forty-eight states show that Ismet Pacha Democrapha has won a wide-spread victory, meeting with little resistance in most states, and that he is advancing on Washington. Never has the Angora government seemed so completely angora.

(Later—By Associated Press)—

Enver Gamaliet Harding denied formally that he construed the results as an order for him to evacuate the sultanate. He belittled predictions of impending massacres. "There were enough massacres Tuesday to satisfy anybody," he declared.

"Have they found the bodies of Nate Miller, Joe Freinhuysen, Al Beveridge, Miles Poindexter, and Coleman du Pont yet?" he asked a moment later. And it is true that Hen Lodge was fired upon as he was swimming to a relief ship in the Straits of Bostonella?

Washington (E. O. S.)—Messages have been received by the Angora government from Ismet Pacha Democrapha making the following demands:

1. Evacuation of all dry territory as far as the Maritza River and even farther.

2. Closing of the Dardanelles (and similar drinking places) to the Anti-Saloon forces.

3. Establishment of a neutral zone which prohibition enforcement agents must not penetrate. This zone to be bounded as follows:

On the west by the Pacific Ocean. On the east by the Atlantic Ocean and three-mile limit. On the north by the Canadian Mounted Police. On the south by the Bahama Islands.

4. Election of a new caliph to replace Enver Harding in 1924.

The Angora government received the demands with great emotion. Grand Viziers Mohammed Hughes I. Abdullah Coolidge XI. and Achmed Mellon V. were noticeably overcome.

For a few minutes there was talk of the cabinet resigning at once. This idea was speedily abandoned when somebody called attention to the fact that an American cabinet never resigns.

Great concern was again expressed over Hen Lodge's close call in Mudania, otherwise known as Massachusetts.

"He had a close shave," reported Grand Vizier Hughes I.

"Good heavens!" exclaimed Enver Harding in alarm. "He must look funny as the devil without the whiskers."

(Later. International News Service)—Allied High Commissions from the Republican party in all sectors will be called here tonight to convene and adopt a counter-offensive. They will send an appeal to Ismet Pacha Democrapha at once urging that he grant an armistice. The Angora government claims that an armistice is imperative in order that the officials may secure fresh supplies of smelling salts and adhesive tape and armlets. At least five weeks will be required to remove the wounded from New York, Ohio, Illinois, New Jersey, Michigan and Virginia alone.

TRENTON, N. J.—Bey Edwards and Grand Vizier Ismet Sulzer commanding the largest anti-prohibition forces in any one area in the country, flushed with their victory of the past week, are marshalling their forces for a new offensive. Reports from many states show heavy enlistments in the Imperial Wet Guard. A reward is offered for the capture of Volstead, the Dry Caliph, dead or alive. He was last reported in full flight. It taken he will be exiled to some place like Clear Water, Mich.

Bey Edwards was reported working on a proclamation demanding the withdrawal of all Allied Dry Forces from the Chanak zone. Grave disturbances are expected momentarily in the Near Yeast.

ALBANIA, N. Y. (Havas Agency)—All responsibility for the wide spread massacres in this province Election Day is disclaimed by Allah Smitha, leader of the Democrapha Forces here.

"The people just got out of control and there was a potting them back," announced Allah, cooking a red derby at a freak angle. "We regret that Enver Miller and his cohorts were so ruthlessly mashed up, but it was their own fault—they never should have got in our way."

"Do you intend to move on to Washington?" he was asked. "That is in the hands of the prophets," he replied, bowing to the east.

"The who?" he was asked. "The prophets," he replied. "You know these boys—Charlie Murphy and the chairman of the Democratic National Committee."

"Will any demands be sent to Washington at this time?" he was asked.

"Ultimately we will demand all of America Minor and of American Major as well," he replied, walking to his tent arm in arm with Mustapha Copeland, the new senator from New Yorkiana to Angora.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK—

By E. R. WAITE
Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that has a splendid spirit of co-operation is always moving ahead.

THAT a chamber of commerce does not conflict with any other organization, it studies the needs of the entire community and plans programs that look into the future and it avoids ill-advised and costly experiments.

THAT cities with resources and prospects should widely advertise those facts so more people and industries will move there. That will mean more business and prosperity for all.

THAT small investors should put their savings into solid, permanent investments or business near home instead of something far away from home. It helps your city and when it helps your city it helps you.

THAT some businesses that come in contact with the public should start a courtesy school of instruction for their employees.

THAT for a city to have a good reputation is a priceless asset.

THAT quality, price and service are great trade builders.

THAT a city should be known as a merchandising center with stocks of every kind.

THAT the rise or decline in the value of real estate is a good way to judge a city.

THAT it will tell you whether the city is forging ahead, content with present conditions, or going into a rut and not trying to get out.

THAT if a city is going backward, every effort should be made to make a dent into the thick skulls of those responsible, so they may wake up, put their shoulders to the wheel and help to make their city move forward.

THAT you should gin your faith in your city. It pins its faith in you.

It was his first great speech and he wanted to make it well—something to label him for once and all as the greatest orator since ever.

His oration was long and passionate and he wished to end it with a warning. He could have couched his warn-

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

Eating too much meat may clog Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Advertisement.

BREAK CHEST COLDS WITH RED PEPPER

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red pepper, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Rowles."—Adv.

TWO BILLION IN GOLD AWAITS MINERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 22.—Two billion dollars in gold, a treasure greater by a quarter of a billion than that extracted from California mines by the hardy 48ers, is easily recoverable, according to the State Bureau of Mines, and can be secured from the river beds of California rivers without interfering with other industries.

Such a statement would seem wildly improbable were it not for the authority given by the government agency that has made the investigation.

Great as were the fortunes laboriously wrested from the earth during the days of the gold-rush, the gold the adventurers let slip through their fingers was even more valuable. Their haste to get the more available gold led them to use wasteful methods which recovered only a small portion of the yellow metal.

Hydraulic mining, as it was practiced by the first miners to try it in the state, recovered from the earth the coarser gold while the fine dust was carried down to the rivers with the silt and fine earth washed from the hills. This earth filled the river beds so rapidly that rivers were often forced from their channels and did great damage to the lands they overflowed.

Under the plan proposed by Fletcher Hamilton, state mineralogist, the enormous riches in the alluvial deposits in the riverbeds are easily recoverable by methods now well understood.

Hamilton further declares that the operations of recovering the gold would indirectly benefit the state by cleaning the river beds, making the rivers navigable for great distances, and preventing annual deluges and flood damage. He proposes the building of retaining dams that would keep mine tailings from filling the river channels in the future and that would, at the same time, conserve the flood waters, giving protection against winter floods while furnishing water storage for summer irrigation.

Hamilton concludes his report with the declaration that "This is a development project which, if carried to a successful conclusion, would be of immeasurable benefit to every citizen of the state, not only for the time being, but for the next hundred years."

ASTORIA, OREGON, TO HAVE SAD XMAS

ASTORIA, Ore., Dec. 22.—There will be many people in this fire-swept city who will have no Christmas celebration Monday morning. Thousands will consider themselves fortunate to have a shelter from the snow and cold as their Christmas.

But there will be one group here that will have a celebration regardless of the wreck and desolation in the city. The children of Astoria are still children to whom Christmas means more than any other day in the year and there are big brothers who will see that this Christmas will be just as Christ-mas as any.

Hearing of the plight of the children here, not a store in which to buy a Christmas present, no money in circulation, many parents without the means to provide Christmas cheer, the Elks of Portland decided that Astoria youngsters should not suffer. They have taken upon themselves the task of providing a real Christmas for the local children and they will both furnish a large part of the necessary articles themselves and act as a forwarding agency for any donations that other big-hearted Portlanders bring in.

There may be no chimney to hang a stocking beside but the stocking will be filled, say the generous Portland "Brother Bills."

Reading about the two little English girls who, according to Conan Doyle, discovered real fairies in the woods, we were reminded of another child because he was so different. Robert, the four-year-old son of a scientific man, had lived in the country most of his short life. One day a visitor, wishing to make friends with the little fellow, took him on his knee and asked, "Are there any fairies in your woods here, Robert?" "No," responded the child promptly, "but there are plenty of edible fungi."

"And They Presented Gifts of Gold..."

THROUGH GIFTS OF GOLD AND SILVER does love still find its most enduring expression. The splendor of this Christmas can be made a lasting heritage through some exquisite gift chosen from our magnificent selections.

Alluring throughout the year to men and women who appreciate diamonds and beautiful jewelry, this store at Xmas time is a perfect fairyland of all that is best and most enduring in the precious stones of the earth, the craftsmanship of the high class jewelry designer and the execution of the expert workman.

NEW NUMBERING AT PASADENA GAME

PASADENA, Dec. 22.—In an effort to make the annual tournament of roses football game more interesting to watch, the tournament committee will ask Coaches Bezdok and Henderson of Penn State and U. S. C., respectively, to use a new numbering system that has proven highly successful in the east this year.

The scheme includes the marking of ends and backs by big circles around the numbers on the players' jerseys. This marking makes it easy for the fans to know who is carrying the ball.

POTTERY CIGARET BOXES
In colors to carry out the scheme of one's room are unusually pretty cigarette boxes of pottery, made by hand and with a quaint little figure for a handle.

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffing, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.—Adv.

VALUE OF EDUCATION

MARTINEZ, Cal., Dec. 21.—The tangible value of education as a matter of dollars and cents is the problem which will be studied in Contra Costa county through the schools under the direction of County Superintendent W. Hanlon.

A comparative study will be made of the records of as large a number of students as possible, so that an accurate and significant conclusion can be drawn. The earning power of high school graduates will be compared with the earning power of those who have had only a primary school education, the earning period after leaving school being the same in each case.

Time is money to everybody but a loafer.

Father Bernard Vaughan was traveling in a train and an occupant of his carriage began making offensive remarks about the clergy. Father Vaughan said nothing, reserving his one remark for the parting. The parting occurred a few stations farther on, when the man alighted. Father Vaughan popped his head out of the window and called out:
"You've left something behind."
"What is it?" cried the man, hurrying back into the carriage.
"A very unpleasant impression," came the swift retort.
And the smile was on the face of Father Vaughan.

PARENT TREE OF NAVEL ORANGE IS DEAD

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 22.—The father, perhaps it better be called the progenitor, of one of California's greatest industries is dead. Contrary to the usual procedure, this death was followed not by a burial but by an exhuming.

The dead progenitor was one of the two original navel orange trees which were sent here by the United States department of Agriculture in 1874. From these two trees sprang the numberless navel orange trees of Southern California's vast groves, perhaps the most valuable groves in the world.

For two years the old tree, one of the points of interest in the Glenwood Mission Inn here, has been falling. This year it failed to show any signs of life and was ordered removed.

It is the plan of F. A. Miller, master of the Mission Inn, to have the wood of the historic tree cut up into souvenirs which will be placed in suitable museums such as that of the Department of Agriculture, and of the California Citrus Experimental station here.

Aside from its parenthood, the tree is of interest because Theodore Roosevelt, at the time president of the United States, planted the tree in its little enclosure at the Mission Inn. The planting was the occasion of quite a celebration with addresses of more than casual interest.

When told that the tree was one of the two parents of all the navel orange trees in the state, the president evoked laughing applause from his audience by remarking: "I am glad to see that this tree shows no signs of race suicide."

SAVED HER LIFE, THEN MARRIED HER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gruner.

While mountain-climbing in a dangerous section of the Alps, Richard Gruner came upon a beautiful young woman who had fallen over a precipice and broken her ankle. He carried her two miles to a physician—and now, with her as his bride, he is touring the United States. She was Fraulein Rose Marie Wannow.

An Englishman boasted that he had been taken for a member of the royal family. A Scotsman, hearing him, remarked that he had been addressed as the Duke of Argyll, whereupon an Irishman said that he had been taken for a greater person than either, for as he was walking along one day a friend came up to him, exclaiming, "Holy Moses, is that you?"

He and she were watching the infantry maneuvers and everything was going fine until suddenly there was a volley from the rifles. She threw her arms around his neck. "Oh, Mr. Smith, I hope you will pardon me, I was so frightened." "That's all right. Won't you come with me and watch the artillery practice?"

LIZARD CALISTHENICS

By JOHN BRECK

Little lizards, like little snakes, mostly put in their appearance in autumn and for the same combination of reasons. Since their mothers cannot temper the air to the unhatched egg after the fashion of a bird, those who lay have to wait until the good brown earth is warm enough for an incubator. And those who carry their eggs about with them until they hatch, frowny mothers of big families like the horned toads, wait until food is plentiful before they assume the extra burden. Furthermore, an infant lizard has so small a grab, it would be unwise for him to hatch before the second generation of grubs is ready for consumption. It is suggestive that lizards are uncommon where most insects do not have at least two a year.

Anyway, by the time the leaves fall the scaly-coated babies are scuttling around like so many chicks, keeping a bright eye out for fear their elders will mistake them for a cricket. And with that sixth sense, whatever it is, which warns them that the jay is flying above them, ever alert, it certainly is not the sight of his shadow, though the "chill shade of fear" is probably a metaphor any lizard would understand. For, wind permitting, the jay is very careful where he lets his shadow fall.

Poor lizard! His life is one long series of narrow escapes, real and imaginary; one long succession of arrow-swift dashes, with motionless halts between. His greatest luxury is basking in the sun. No matter how still he sits, no matter how he flattens himself against the ground, any one can see him—if he looks long enough. And it's such a common trick that most hunters are on to it.

Still, on a warm mid-morning, when all wee things are out stowing away warmth to last them through the winter, you can see a dozen of them lined up on the pebbles along a sunny stretch of road. One after another of them cocks up his tail, spreads out his elbows, and raises and lowers his chest from the ground with a rocking motion. It is that exercise most highly recommended for the reduction of obesity. It must be effective, for no one ever saw a lizard with a "bay window." (Anyway, they're awfully vain. Look how they prink and paint in the spring of the year.)

While you watch them taking their calisthenics by turns, you note that the fallen leaves which lie flat in the cool moisture of the dawn, are all beginning to curl. They cock up their stems and rock on their little round backs, exactly like the lizards. Or can it possibly be that it's tother way 'round?

INSECT PESTS

Reports from the Federal Horticultural Board of the United States Department of Agriculture show that the work of fighting insect pests was carried on vigorously during the past year. Insect pests do millions of dollars damage to American crops every year. Many of them come from foreign countries. The Federal Horticultural Board enforces plant quarantine acts for the purpose of keeping insects and plant diseases out of the United States, and to keep those here from spreading. Some 22 foreign and 15 domestic quarantines are now in force. Inspectors are kept in the various shipping ports and along the Mexican border to see that no immigrant plant insect or disease gets by.

He was fond of playing silly jokes on his wife and this time he thought he had a winner. "My dear," he said, as they sat at supper, "I heard such a sad story of a young girl today. They thought she was going blind and so a surgeon operated on her and found—"

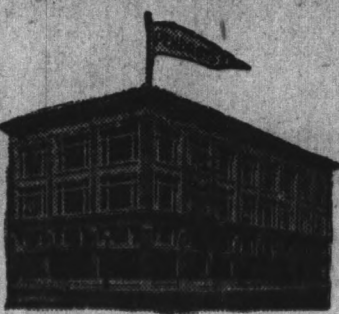

"Yes," gasped the wife, breathlessly. "That she had a young man in her eye," ended the husband with a chuckle. For a moment there was silence. Then the woman remarked slowly: "Well, it would depend on what sort of a man he was. Some of them she could see through easily enough."

Although a woman may have everything that money can buy she will not be happy unless she is allowed to speak her mind.

"YOUNG RAJAH"
AT THE T. D. & L.
THEATER

For "The Young Rajah," Rodolph Valentino's latest picture, at the T. D. & L. Theatre, Paramount has assembled a cast which reaches all-star proportions. The picture, which will play Molly Cabot, the American girl with whom Amos Judd (the adopted name of the young Hindu) falls in love while attending Harvard.

Bertram Grassby, character artist, who played the Hindu heavy in "For the Defense," a Paramount picture, starring Ethel Clayton, again portrays a colorful Hindu villain—a maharajah who usurps the throne. He is assisted in his villainous designs by J. Farrell Macdonald.

Joshua and Sarah Judd, the kindly old New Englanders who adopt the boy, are played by two noted character artists, Charles Ogilby and Fanny Midgely. Other important Hindu characters are enacted by George Perolat, George Field and Edwin Stevens. Amos Judd as a youth is portrayed by Pat Moore.

"WATCH YOUR STEP"
OPENS AT THE GLENDALE

"Watch Your Step," the new Goldwyn picture coming to the Glendale Theatre for two days, beginning today, is a light comedy with many thrilling situations. It is the work of Julien Josephson, who has written many of Charles Ray's successes. Cullen Landis, one of the youngest leading men on the screen, has the role of a city sport who, through a series of accidents, finds himself in the role of a tramp in a small town. Here he hides against the law, but finds that he cannot guard his heart. The result is inevitable. In the end, justice overtakes the hero; and he discovers that he has been fleeing from an overwrought imagination.

One of the most thrilling automobile chases ever filmed has been photographed in "Watch Your Step." To see it will make you clutch your seat and hang on to the finish. The picture was directed by William Beaudine, with Patsy Ruth Miller in the leading feminine role.

REDUCING THE MEAT BILL BY CHEAP CUTS

When the housewife tries to reduce her meat bill by using the cheaper cuts, she often gets tough meat or meat that lacks flavor. Longer cooking may make a cheaper cut of meat tender, says the Office of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, or pounding and chopping the cut will soften it up. The flavor of meat, even in the least desirable cuts, can be improved by careful cooking. Browning the surface is one good way of giving the meat a better flavor. The addition of vegetables and seasoning also helps.

TO MAINTAIN PRICES
COLUSA, Cal., Dec. 21.—Following the disastrous break in turkey prices the morning before Thanksgiving, and because San Francisco commission merchants have predicted that Christmas turkeys will not net the growers more than 30 cents a pound, steps are being taken here to form a Northern California Turkey Growers' association which shall guarantee a fair price to the producer in the future. The association will include turkey growers in Yolo, Sutter, Yuba, Butte, Colusa, Glenn and Placer counties. Later it may take in all the northern counties.

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, and not one rheumatism case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right on the tender spot, and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints, and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia. Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest St. Jacobs Oil from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Adv.

DON'T BELIEVE IT? THEN COUNT THEM

How many grass seeds are there in a pound? Investigations show that timothy, our most important hay grass, has 1,200,000 seeds to the pound as compared with twice that number for Kentucky bluegrass, nearly four times as many for redtop, and not quite as many for Bermuda grass. These rank next to timothy in importance among the tame grasses. Similar statistics have been prepared for most of the other 18 important grasses in this country. Altogether, there are some 6,000 varieties of grass seed in the world; according to the United States Department of Agriculture, but only 60 of them are valuable. In general, Between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 the value of the grasses seems to persons visit the national forests be in direct proportion to the qual- each year, reports the Forest Serv- erty of the seeds and the number ice of the United States Depart- ment of Agriculture.

OBSERVATIONS

BY A GLENDALE OLD TIMER

Managing editors of big city daily newspapers seem to be much more alert than in former years, for the old fake sensations that used to spring up annually are no longer received with open columns as of yore. In the later years of the nineteenth century the hoary yarn about the irate "feeder" of a threshing machine who became so angry with the boy band-cutter whose knife occasionally slipped and cut his hands that he grabbed the poor youth and fed him into the machine, bobbed up every season, in July or August, but each time coming in as a special dispatch from a different location. There never was the slightest foundation for the story, but year after year it appeared until at last the credulous managing editors had had enough, much fun poked at them for their greenness and gullibility, by the country newspapers, that they buried the venerable fake.

One of the most interesting features of the Daily Press, to my mind, is Henry James' "Comments on the Day's News," on the editorial page. Mr. James hits straight from the shoulder in his writings and mercilessly scores everyday fads and fancies, particularly the delirious rush of morbid men and women to listen to testimony in trials for murder and sex crimes. It seems to be expected that men of debased mentality and erotic tendencies will be eager to hear witnesses forced to give testimony of grossly obscene nature, but that women should fairly fight their way into court-rooms on such occasions certainly lowers one's good opinion of the sex. Mr. James, in last Friday's issue, referring to crime mysteries that were never fully solved, mentioned the Bender family of murderers who took so many lives about forty years ago. Old man Bender, his son John and daughter Kate, lived on a farm near Cherrysville, Kansas, as most of you former residents of the Sunflower state, particularly old-timers, will remember. Several people traveling that way had disappeared and finally Dr. York, a prominent physician of the neighborhood, who had left home bound for a neighboring city, to reach which he would have to pass the Bender farm, did not arrive at his destination, and inquiries as to his disappearance were set on foot. He had been seen approaching the Bender place toward evening, but that was the last known of him. Then it was remarked that others who had disappeared had been seen near the Bender farm, and an investigation was started, which led to the discovery of nine bodies buried in various places near the house. Some were but skeletons, but every skull was found to have been crushed in some manner. It was afterward brought to light that the traveler, stopping at Bender's over night would be given a bountiful supper, but was seated with his back to a canvas partition. Old man Bender or John would then sneak up behind him, on the other side of the canvas, and, carefully noting the position of the victim's head, would deliver upon it a murderous blow with an ax, which always resulted fatally. Sometimes the still warm body would be thrown to the hogs who devoured portions of it, and then what was left would be buried. Kate Bender was a woman of magnificent proportions, had Titian hair and a skin of dazzling whiteness. It was proved that some of the victims were lured to the house by a liberal display of her charms by this modern Circe. The murders were all committed for the purpose of robbery. The murders were arrested but before they could be lodged in jail a band of men took them from the officers of the law and made off with their prisoners. They were never seen again and it was reported that all three were killed by their captors and buried in nameless graves. But not one of the band of avengers ever gave to the world a word that would clear up the mystery. For years afterward, however, there would come occasional rumors that Kate or her brother had been seen in this or that locality.

Most people have the idea that South Carolina was the only state or territory that was sought to be separated from the Union. President Jackson's prompt action in declaring that "by the eternal" he would use all of the forces of army and navy, if necessary, to whip South Carolina into submission and hang John C. Calhoun, instigator of and prime mover in the rebellion, quickly squelched the uprising. But there were two defiances of the federal government before South Carolina's secession in 1823. In 1789 Gen. Wilkinson led in a carefully contrived scheme to detach Kentucky territory from the United States and join it to the Spanish dominions that had headquarters in New Orleans. Wilkinson involved many in his plots, notably Gen. George Rogers Clark, whose capture of Kaskaskia, Illinois, and Vincennes, Indiana, in 1777 and 1778, saved the two territories to the United States. Both the wonderful achievements are narrated with historical fidelity, in Winston Churchill's "The Crossing." The attempted secession came to naught and all thoughts of such a thing were forgotten after General Wayne's sweeping victory over the Indian tribes on the Maumee, in 1794, in which exploit he was greatly helped by the Kentuckians. Another revolt, but on a much smaller scale, was the "Whisky rebellion" in western Pennsylvania. In 1794, when the makers of distilled spirits arose in arms over the imposition of a tax, by the United States government, on their product. It was quickly put down.

Every war in which our country has engaged has developed many heroes, but each of these was one of particular promise. While in the Revolution George Washington was the one supreme hero, there was another general who, considering the limited sphere to which his activities were limited, was entitled to almost as much credit. This was Gen. Nathaniel Green, who redeemed the South from the clutches of Cornwallis, Rawdon and Tarleton, British officers whose names will go down to eternal infamy for their many murders and persecutions of innocent patriots. Green lost three battles—Guilford courthouse, Hobkirk's hill and Eutaw Springs, but in each he managed to inflict upon his enemy a far greater loss than that sustained by himself. The only victory of any moment won in the entire campaign was by bluff old Daniel Morgan at Cowpens, where he defeated and almost annihilated a far superior force led by the infamous Tarleton. The latter escaped capture but never won even a skirmish after that. He would have been hanged in short order by the enraged Americans had he been taken. But he lived to be past 80. The great hero of the war of 1861 with the Barbary pirates was Commodore Stephen Decatur, and of the war of 1812, Andrew Jackson, who at New Orleans, with 6000 men, defeated Gen. Sir Edward Pakenham's 15,000 veterans of Wellington's campaign, inflicting on them a loss of 2600, including the commander and the two generals next below him in rank, with American casualties of only 12 men. In the Mexican war General Zachary Taylor gained imperishable fame by defeating at Resaca, with only 2600 men, Santa Anna's 20,000, and by other amazing victories. In the Civil war the palm is accorded U. S. Grant, who, from a mere captain, rose in four years to the supreme command of the mightiest armies the world had ever known. In 1859 and 1860 he was a farmer, desperately poor, adding to his scanty resources by hauling cordwood to residents of St. Louis from his little farm "out on the Gravois road," where a wretched log cabin sheltered him and his family. Later he tried the real estate business, with no success, then moved to Galena, Ill., where he became a tanner of hides. Then came the war and his modest statement that he thought he was fit to command a regiment. He finally got his chance and Fort Donelson showed his mettle. Then followed Vicksburg and later the campaign about Richmond that ended the war. The characteristic that contributed most to his success was that he never knew when he was whipped. Battled at one point he turned to another, as at Vicksburg and in the closing campaign, and never ceased hammering till victory was won. The war with Spain and its aftermath, the contest with the Filipino insurgents, developed one conspic-

JAMES W. FOLEY

CONFUCIUS AND I
I wrote a poem the other day,
A rather good one too;
A poem that grew on me somehow
Each time I read it through.
The thought of it was big and fine,
At least it seemed to be
And there was something in each line
That quite appealed to me.

And that same night I lay in bed
And turned a printed page
Of old Confucius and I read
The wisdom of that sage.
And I found my same thought right there,
In ancient Chinese lore,
And that old book I will declare
I'd never seen before.

It is, you will admit, some range
From him clear down to me,
And so the thing is very strange
As you will plainly see,
That from his wisdom he should bring
That gem, in ages dim,
And I should think that selfsame thing
Three thousand years from him.

It was a pleasure, I may say,
To find my thought back there,
In old Confucius' ancient day,
And I give him his share
Of credit, as you plainly see,
It shows how great minds span
The years and also proves to me
He was a brainy man!

uous hero, Gen. Fred Funston. His daring deeds in Cuba and later in the Philippines, his crowning exploit there being the capture of Aguinaldo, stamped him as a military genius. On the sea Admiral Dewey was the popular hero, though Sampson and Schley were not far behind. In the World war heroes were many, but by common consent Sergeant Alvin York was easily the premier of all, with his capture, single-handed, of 132 German machine gun operators.

LUTHERAN WOMEN ENTERTAIN AT HOFFMAN HOME

Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Lutheran Church were entertained Wednesday afternoon with a delightful Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Paul Hoffman, 327 North Maryland avenue, which was given a festive appearance by decorations of red and green and a miniature Christmas tree trimmed with silver icicles and candles. The program included Christmas stories from the Scriptures and from fiction, Christmas carols were sung, and members joined in a march to the tree where the offering of the day was laid while the Victrola played "Silent Night." The attendance and the offering were excellent. At the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostess.
